Sup't of Bristol Municipal Playground Seized With Heart Attack

SON IS IN A HOSPITAL

Madison Street Man Had Been Bristol Faculty Member 20 Years

Sudden death struck this morning for Charles M. Utz, superintendent of Bristol Municipal Playground, and teacher of chemistry at Bristol high school.

Mr. Utz was fatally stricken with a heart attack while engaged in putting out equipment at the playground this morning at 9:40, and died within a few minutes. The playground, which was scheduled to open at 10 o'clock, was closed for the day.

Mr. Utz, with his wife and son, resided at 268 Madison street, the son, Charles, Jr., being under treatment at present in St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, N. J.

The playground superintendent, after putting out a few pieces of equipment, approached John Ritter, caretaker of the Bristol Memorial Park, informing that he didn't feel well, and placing his hand on his chest said he had considerable pain. Ritter asked if Utz wished to be taken to his home, the latter replying that he would sit down and rest. Ritter sent for a physician, and upon arrival Dr. Thomas Fannin pronounced Utz dead. Bucks County Rescue Squad ambulance had also been dispatched to the scene, as well as Bristol police. Bucks County Coroner J. Alfred Rigby, Cornwells Heights, was called upon to issue a certificate of death.

Arthur Seyfert had also aided Ritter in caring for the ill man.

Mr. Utz had been a member of Bristol public school faculty for approximately 20 years.

Veterans Administration Information Service

Q—What must I do to get my NSLI dividend payment at the earliest possible moment?

Such a veteran may also be entitled to outpatient medical and dental treatment and prosthetic service for his service-connected disability.

Q—Can you tell me what peacetime veterans are entitled to funeral and burial expenses?

May Erect Community Center for Newtown

NEWTOWN, July 9—A deed to the old foundry located on N. State street, formerly owned by the Chambers family, has been given the Neshaminy Valley Youth Center. The property is now used as a warehouse by Lavelle Aircraft.

The purpose of the Chambers in giving the property to the Youth Center is to provide a suitable site for the erection of a community center in Newtown.

It is the aim of the Youth Center board to erect a building on the newly-acquired site, a building which would serve the whole community as a meeting place and a recreation center for children and adults.

Preliminary drawings of the proposed building have already been made.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The jury in the perjury trial of Alger Hiss was dismissed last night by Federal Judge Samuel H. Kaufman after it had failed repeatedly to break the deadlock that had divided it since it received the case on Thursday afternoon. The dismissal set the stage for a possible retrial of the case.

The chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Senator Tydings, declared after a White House visit that President Truman strongly opposed the House action in transferring $750,000,000, originally requested for universal military training, to add six additional groups to the Air Force. Mr. Tydings explained that the Chief Executive still favored the training program as essential to national defense.

Mr. Truman was also pictured as in favor of a Congressional investigation of monopolies, scheduled to start next week.

Both branches of Congress completed action on the compromise long-range public low rent housing and slum clearance bill and sent it to the President, who was expected to sign it soon.

Senator Taft announced his "absolute opposition" to the Administration's proposal to extend $1,130,000,000 of military aid to the Euro-

ANTIQUE AUTOMOBILE MUSEUM IS PLANNED FOR BRIDGEWATER; JAMES CLARK SUTTON, ANTICIPATES INCREASING 23 CARS TO 75

This area is to have an antique automobile museum if the dream of James Clark Sutton, Bridgewater, comes true.

Sutton's collection of antique cars has grown to such an extent that it has literally burst the seams of the 40x60 quonset hut and the garages in which he stores them. "By next year I plan to build a museum on Bristol Pike, at Bridgewater, a place where the public can view the machines," he commented today.

In fact, the young man, who is just as adept at repairing automobiles as he is repairing watches (the latter being his vocation, the cars his avocation), has 40 to 50 visitors a week now—individuals who express keen interest in his 23 machines, each of a different make, and eight of which are at least 40 years old. Busy working on a car, he is often interrupted to display some of the others to passers-by, and noting the keen interest of men, women and children in the four-wheeled chariots of ancient vintage, the local member of the Antique Automobile Club of America bit upon the museum idea as an answer to the garaging problem, while at the same time offering opportunity for the public to gaze to its heart's content.

The oldest of Sutton's antique automobiles is a 1900 Stanley steamer, which he purchased 1½ years ago. This single seat, two-passenger vehicle is one of three not yet in running condition. The other 20 are operated from time to time by the Bucks County. Next oldest are two cars built in 1905—a Ford survey four-passenger model, and a one-cylinder Cadillac with a seat for two passengers. The Ford was the first Ford in Bristol, it being purchased originally by Harry McMullen. A 1905 Buick four-passenger machine is most unusual in that the large hood covers the gasoline tank, and the motor is under the seat. This car came to

MANY USE SPANS CROSSING DELAWARE

Two Bridges Owned By Burlington Co. Produce Revenues of $152,815

SHOW A BIG INCREASE

MT. HOLLY, N. J., July 9—The bridges across the Delaware River at Bristol and Burlington and Tacony-Palmira produced revenues totaling $152,815.65 during June, according to figures made public here.

Fred C. Norcross, Jr., secretary-treasurer of the Burlington County Bridge Commission, said this was the highest monthly revenue since the county assumed ownership of the two Delaware River spans. It was an increase of $5,418.27 over June a year ago, when the bridges were privately owned.

During the 30-day period, a new traffic record was set on the Tacony-Palmira bridge. A total of 26,039 automobiles, buses and trucks traveled over the span on June 26, breaking the previous traffic record of 24,428 set July 25, 1948.

The record day raised the traffic count for both bridges during June to 573,971, an increase of 99,834 over the same period a year ago.

Meanwhile, the spans ended one of the biggest July 4 week-ends in their history. The traffic count for last Friday, Saturday and Sunday was 79,809, as compared with 65,240 for the same three days in 1948.

CAPTAIN LEAVES BRIDGE

There was a time years back
when the name "Rescue Fried"
could have very well been applied to a long-jawed blue water sailor.
Capt. George Fried, so they said, was uncanny.

The chances were nine out of ten that if some vessel were going to founder in the North Atlantic, it would be within steaming distance of a ship captained by him.

He was a man of the sea in the best tradition, although, paradoxically, his first service hitch was with the U. S. Army in the Spanish-American War. In 1900 he transferred to the Navy, and spent 18 years with the fleet.
After that he sailed in commercial ships for almost two decades.

He trod the bridges of such
great vessels as the old America, the George Washington, the President Roosevelt.

Many times he peered from the wings of the bridge as his life boats crawled across the water toward foundering hulks. He even had the rescue of the pilot of a trans-Atlantic plane to his credit.

Captain Fried is dead at the age of 71. The last 15 years of his life had been spent, as seafarers call it, "on the beach." He had seen new navigational and rescue aids take much of the tough romance out of North Atlantic crossings.

He represented an era that was only a step beyond the period when canvas and iron men battled
the elements to a draw, or lost.
His passing thins the ranks of those spare, ruddy men who helped build this country's maritime history.

BARGAIN BASEMENT CLOSED

As the War Assets Administration now goes out of business, it can look back on a job rather
well done, considering the legislative restrictions under which it functioned. In four years it managed to dispose of most of the surplus war property — no small task — and to salvage $4,250,- 000,000 of the $27,000,000,000 which the government spent for buildings and all sorts of commodities.

That is, to be sure, only 17
cents on the dollar but, considering the nature of the stuff — that's the word — which the government had to sell, it may be a fair return. There was no actual peacetime market for some of the materials used in the war. To find sale, it was necessary that they be bargain-priced.

Besides, it is entirely possible
that the prices which the government paid were exorbitant.

It was the same with many of the munitions plants which were built at the beginning of the war.
They were good for the purpose for which they were designed but not easily adaptable to other uses.
To get rid of them the WAA was forced to make substantial price concessions.

There is still a small war surplus inventory. With the WAA closing up shop, disposal of these odds and ends will be entrusted to the newly-established Government Service Administration. A few bargains are still available.

studied a number of the modern innovations that have been placed in operation by Warden Handy. The visitors particularly commented on the cleanliness of the prison and
the efficient manner in which each department is operated. They were pleased with the farm operations.

Recently-elected officers were installed at the meeting of the Rotary club, of Doylestown, on Wednesday. James Rufe a past president, presented the immediate past president, Raymond D. Bitzer, with a past president's pin.

Mr. Bitzer in turn inducted Dr.
Allen H. Moore as president. He also presented the new presiding officer the president's pin and a new gavel.

In his short inaugural speech,
Dr. Moore stated that he intends to uphold the objectives of Rotary International and to put them into practice in the club.

"In order to show progress," he said, "each year must be an improvement over the preceding one.
With the loyal support and cooperation of the members of this club
we can do just that this coming year."

Other officers who were installed
were Kenneth Swanson, vice president, J. Purdy Weiss, treasurer, and William S. Mason, secretary.

was started. The present site was secured and many who went to the grove annually pitched tents for the 10 days of religious services, with a schedule of three programs daily.
Later, cottages were erected, and a large auditorium; then the present temple was constructed.

Simpson Grove became a popular rendezvous for spiritually-minded folk. Definite restrictions were adhered to, including a strict Sabbath observance. Persons seeking residence within the bounds of the Grove were investigated and if any questionable doubt as to their character arose, were refused residence.

For many years, Simpson Grove was inhabited by a great number of summer folk. While many of the present residents reside there only during the summer months, the majority of the homes are now occupied all year round.

Art Festival Will Attract at Tinicum

Some of the art work and crafts
are for sale and proceeds will go to the Tinicum Improvement Association an organization of residents of Tinicum Township whose interest is to improve community facilities. All children under 12 accompanied by their parents will be admitted free.

Says James A. Michener, author of "Tales of the South Pacific" and one of the sponsors of the festival:
"As a newcomer to this part of Bucks County, I am impressed with the fine part which arts and crafts play in the lives of many people in our neighborhood. The artists are not an isolated group here. We have no art colony. Some of us work at painting, sculpture, ceramics, woodcutting, designing or writing all the time, while others
farm or work in factories and carry on creative work in spare time.
This beautiful part of the Delaware
Valley seems to stimulate widespread creative work."

Antique Auto Museum Is Planned for Bridgewater

Bucks County from Vermont. There are two 1907 cars in the collection. One is an Orient buckboard made in Waltham, Mass., the first car of the rear engine drive type. It is friction drive, having no clutch nor gears and has but a single cylinder. The other 1907 model is a Jewel, with two passengers accommodated on the lone seat. This also is a single-cylinder car, with two cycle motor, and resembles a "falling top" in appearance, the top in reality being of the folding type.

Two cars of 1909 vintage are the Waverly electric; and the Sears-Roebuck buggy, the latter having a double seat, pick-up body, and being of the two-cylinder, air-cooled type. A Maxwell manufactured in the following year, 1910, is also part of the collection. This is a two-cylinder roadster.

Two cars made 38 years ago, or in 1911, are the Twombly and the Renault. Mr. Sutton's Twombly has a tandem seat for two passengers. "This was really the first car you stepped down into" to enter," he commented today. "Doors are on one side only, and the drop from the running board to the floor of the car is about six inches. The steering wheel is adjustable to permit the driver to get in and out with ease." At a recent automobile show, Sutton had the Twombly on display, and next to it was a 1949 model of a much larger car, the salesman announcing in a loud voice for all to hear that the car he was selling was the first car which one "stepped down into." Sutton had much pleasure in making a sign to place on the 1911 Twombly announcing that that was the original "step down into" car. The Twombly was made in Sharon, Pa., and sold for $325 when new. The Renault (1911) owned by Sutton, is a seven-passenger limousine, and was made in France.

The latest addition to the collection is a 1924 Franklin with air-cooled engine. This boasts of a wooden chassis. "It was jacked up for 15 years, and when I went to Syracuse, N. Y., for it last week all that was necessary was to put a new battery in it, fill it with gasoline, put new tires on it, and it ran fine. In fact I covered 425 miles en route home with it," said the owner.

The Bucks County admirer of antique automobiles does all necessary mechanical work on the cars he buys; but calls on an upholsterer to repair or replace upholstery or car tops of the fabric type.

It is the expectation of Sutton to have 60 to 75 cars by the time the planned-museum is completed. Of the 23 different makes of antique cars in his possession, five are still manufactured—the Cadillac, Ford, Maxwell, Buick and Renault. "There have been 2200 different American makes of cars since automobiles were first put on the market," the collector commented. He adds that it is no trouble to secure tires for the cars of ancient make, two firms dealing in them. "Those that are not manufactured for general use are made from the old moulds which the firms retain," according to Sutton.

The 23 cars at the Sutton place burn gasoline or oil in the head- and tail-lights. For participation in shows and parades, Sutton has the type of clothing that is coupled with motoring in by-gone days—dusters; derbies and straw hats; and for winter a racoon coat.

Every year Sutton enters some of his machines in the shows at Devon, Pa., and Atlantic City, N. J., sponsored by the Antique Automobile Club of America; also the Thanksgiving day parade in Philadelphia. In fact he enters eight or nine shows or parades annually. He has in his possession 25 ribbons and four trophies. For the 1905 Ford he received a trophy from the Ford Company, the 1905 model be-

ST. ANN'S BID FOR 1ST PLACE IN LEAGUE FAILS

TRENTON, N. J., July 9 — St. Ann's bid for first place in the Trenton Industrial League failed last evening as the Bristol team bowed to the Micharski nine, 7-4, on Wetzel field. As the result of the defeat, St. Ann's dropped into second place.

The "Saints" had a 4-1 lead until the last half of the third when Micharski scored twice to shave the lead to 4-3. In the following inning, the Jerseyites drove Tony Cauti from the hill and Paul Cervellero went in to finish. Cervellero blanked the Micharski team in the last four frames and during this stretch gave up but two hits.

It was Manager Fred Micharski who pitched his team to the triumph. He was hit hard in the early frames but after the second managed to keep St. Ann's away from the plate.

The "Saints" hopped on Micharski for a pair of runs in the first. Tony Palumbo started the proceedings with a triple off the right field screen. Klein singled and Palumbo scored. Elmer laid down a bunt and on Kuzma's wild throw, Klein counted.

The Bristolites scored two more in the second when Salustio reached base on an error by Werner, and Fred Barbetta beat out an infield roller. Both runners scored when Tony Cauti hit safely to center.

Joe Durizin's double and Kuzma's hit gave Micharski a run in the first and it scored twice in the third on a single by Durizin, a walk to Kuzma, and Bob Schmorbus' double to center.

Four runs in the 4th gave Micharski the verdict. Millard was walked, Bates popped up and Micharski singled to center. Durizin smashed out his second double and Millard counted. Cervellero relieved Cauti. Kuzma fled out, Micharski scoring after the catch. Holden was passed. When Elmer threw to second to get Holden stealing, Durizin scored. Holden crossed the plate on Schneider's error.

In the fifth, St. Ann's filled the bags on walks to Elmer, Bert Barbetta, but Salustio and Schneider failed to deliver. After two runners got on in the 7th, Bert Barbetta hit into a double-play to kill the rally.

In the ninth inning, Toronto batted for Cervellero and dropped a hit into left. Palumbo caught hold of a Micharski pitch and sent it soaring towards center field. It looked like a certain triple or home run but Dick Holden came up with a brilliant catch and had no trouble in doubling-up Toronto at first.

Durizin with two doubles and a single led the winners at the plate while "Chuck" Klein, Fred Barbetta and Cauti had two hits each for St. Ann's.

CHAS. M. UTZ DIES SUDDENLY TODAY AT PLAYGROUND

Sup't of Bristol Municipal Playground Seized With Heart Attack

Madison Street Man Had Been Bristol Faculty Member 20 Years

Sudden death struck this morning for Charles M. Utz, superintendent of Bristol Municipal Playground, and teacher of chemistry at Bristol high school.

Mr. Utz was fatally stricken with a heart attack while engaged in putting out equipment at the playground this morning at 9:40, and died within a few minutes. The playground, which was scheduled to open at 10 o'clock, was closed for the day.

Mr. Utz, with his wife and son, resided at 268 Madison street, the son, Charles, Jr., being under treatment at present in St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, N. J.

The playground superintendent, after putting out a few pieces of equipment, approached John Ritter, caretaker of the Bristol Memorial Park, informing that he didn't feel well, and placing his hand on his chest said he had considerable pain. Ritter asked if Utz wished to be taken to his home, the latter replying that he would sit down and rest. Ritter sent for a physician, and upon arrival Dr. Thomas Fannin pronounced Utz dead. Bucks County Rescue Squad ambulance had also been dispatched to the scene, as well as Bristol police. Bucks County Coroner J. Alfred Rigby, Cornwells Heights, was called upon to issue a certificate of death.

Arthur Seytzer had also aided Ritter in caring for the ill man.

Mr. Utz had been a member of Bristol public school faculty for approximately 20 years.

Such a veteran may also be entitled to outpatient medical and dental treatment and prosthetic service for his service-connected disability.
- Q—Can you tell me what peace-time veterans are entitled to funeral and burial expenses?

May Erect Community Center for Newtown

NEWTOWN, July 9 — A deed to the old foundry located on N. State street, formerly owned by the Chambers family, has been given to the Nesaminy Valley Youth Center. The property is now used as a warehouse by Lavelle Aircraft.

The purpose of the Chambers in giving the property to the Youth Center is to provide a suitable site for the erection of a community center in Newtown.

It is the aim of the Youth Center board to erect a building on the newly-acquired site, a building which would serve the whole community as a meeting place and a recreation center for children and adults.

Preliminary drawings of the proposed building have already been made.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The jury in the perjury trial of Alger Hiss was dismissed last night by Federal Judge Samuel H. Kaufman after it had failed repeatedly to break the deadlock that had divided it since it received the case on Thursday afternoon. The dismissal set the stage for a possible retrial of the case.

The chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Senator Tydings, declared after a White House visit that President Truman strongly opposed the House action in transferring $760,000,000, originally requested for universal military training, to add six additional groups to the Air Force. Mr. Tydings explained that the Chief Executive still favored the training program as essential to national defense.

Mr. Truman was also pictured as in favor of a Congressional investigation of monopolies, scheduled to start next week.

Both branches of Congress completed action on the compromise long-range public low rent housing and slum clearance bill and sent it to the President, who was expected to sign it soon.

Senator Taft announced his "absolute opposition" to the Administration's proposal to extend $1,130,000,000 of military aid to the Euro-

ANTIQUE AUTOMOBILE MUSEUM IS PLANNED FOR BRIDGEWATER; JAMES CLARK SUTTON, ANTICIPATES INCREASING 23 CARS TO 75

This area is to have an antique automobile museum if the dream of James Clark Sutton, Bridgewater, comes true.

Sutton's collection of antique cars has grown to such an extent that it has literally burst the seams of the 10x50 quonset hut and the garages in which he stores them. "By next year I plan to build a museum on Bristol Pike, at Bridgewater, a place where the public can view the machines," he commented today.

In fact, the young man, who is just as adept at repairing automobiles as he is repairing watches (the latter being his vocation, the cars his avocation), has 40 to 50 visitors a week now individuals who express keen interest in his 23 machines, each of a different make, and eight of which are at least 40 years old. Busy working on a car, he is often interrupted to display some of the others to passersby, and noting the keen interest of men, women and children in the four-wheeled chariots of ancient vintage, the local member of the Antique Automobile Club of America hit upon the museum idea as an answer to the garaging problem, while at the same time offering opportunity for the public to gaze to its heart's content.

The oldest of Sutton's antique automobiles is a 1900 Stanley steamer, which he purchased 1½ years ago. This single seat, two passenger vehicle is one of three not yet in running condition. The other 20 are operated from time to time by the Bucks County. Next oldest are two cars built in 1905—a Ford surrey four-passenger model, and a one-cylinder Cadillac with a seat for two passengers. The Ford was the first Ford in Bristol, it being purchased originally by Harry McMullen. A 1906 Buick four-passenger machine is most unusual in that the large hood covers the gasoline tank, and the motor is under the seat. This car came to

There was a time years back
when the name "Rescue Fried"
could have very well been applied
to a long-jawed blue water sailor.
Capt. George Fried, so they said,
was uncanny.

The chances were nine out of
ten that if some vessel were going
to founder in the North Atlantic,
it would be within steaming distance of a ship captained by him.

He was a man of the sea in the
best tradition, although, paradoxically, his first service hitch
was with the U. S. Army in the Spanish-American War. In 1900
he transferred to the Navy, and
spent 18 years with the fleet.
After that he sailed in commercial
ships for almost two decades.

He trod the bridges of such
great vessels as the old America, the George Washington, and the President Roosevelt.

Many times he peered from the
wings of the bridge as his life
boats crawled across the water
toward foundering hulks. He even
had the rescue of the pilot of a trans-Atlantic plane to his credit.

Captain Fried is dead at the age of 71. The last 15 years of his life had been spent, as seafarers call it, "on the beach." He had seen new navigational and
rescue aids take much of the tough
romance out of North Atlantic
crossings.

He represented an era that was
only a step beyond the period
when canvas and iron men battled
the elements to a draw, or lost.
His passing thins the ranks of those spare, ruddy men who helped build this country's maritime history.

As the War Assets Administration now goes out of business,
it can look back on a job rather
well done, considering the legislative restrictions under which it
functioned. In four years it managed to dispose of most of the
surplus war property — no small
task — and to salvage $4,250,000, 000,000 of the $27,000,000,000
which the government spent for
buildings and all sorts of commodities.

That is, to be sure, only 17
cents on the dollar but, considering the nature of the stuff — that's
the word — which the government had to sell, it may be a fair return. There was no actual
peacetime market for some of the materials used in the war. To find a sale, it was necessary that they be bargain-priced.

Besides, it is entirely possible
that the prices which the government paid were exorbitant.

It was the same with many of
the munitions plants which were built at the beginning of the war.
They were good for the purpose
for which they were designed but not easily adapted to other uses.
To get rid of them the WAA was
forced to make substantial price
concessions.

There is still a small war surplus inventory. With the WAA
closing up shop, disposal of these
odds and ends will be entrusted to the newly-established Government Service Administration. A few bargains are still available.

The Dauphin county officers

novations that have been placed in operation by Warden Handy. The visitors particularly commented on
the cleanliness of the prison and
the efficient manner in which each department is operated. They were pleased with the farm operations.

Recently-elected officers were installed at the meeting of the Rotary club, of Doylestown, on Wednesday. James Ray, a past president, presented the immediate past president, Raymond D. Ritter, with a past president's pin.

Mr. Ritter in turn inducted Dr.
Allen H. Moore as president. He
also presented the new presiding officer the president's pin and a new gavel.

In his short inaugural speech,
Dr. Moore stated that he intends to uphold the objectives of Rotary International and to put them into
practice in the club.

"In order to show progress," he
said, "each year must be an improvement over the preceding one.
With the loyal support and cooperation of the members of this club
year."

Other officers who were installed
were Kenneth Swanson, vice president; J. Purdy Weiss, treasurer, and William S. Mason, secretary.

was started. The present site was secured and many who went to the
grove annually pitched tents for the 10 days of religious services, with
a schedule of three programs daily.
Later, cottages were erected, and
a large auditorium; then the present
temple was constructed.

Simpson Grove became a popular
rendezvous for spiritually-minded
folk. Definite restrictions were adhered to, including a strict Sabbath observance. Persons seeking resit-ance within the bounds of the Grove were investigated and if any
questionable doubt as to their character arose, were refused residence.

For many years, Simpson Grove
was inhabited by a great number of
summer folk. While many of the present residents reside there only
during the summer months, the
majority of the homes are now
occupied all year 'round.

Art Festival Will Attract at Tinticum

Some of the art work and crafts
are for sale and proceeds will go to the Tinticum Improvement Association an organization of residents of Tinticum Township whose interest is to improve community facilities. All children under 12
accompanied by their parents will
be admitted free.

Says James A. Michener, author
of "Tales of the South Pacific" and
one of the sponsors of the festival:
"As a newcomer to this part of Bucks County, I am impressed with
the fine part which arts and crafts
play in the lives of many people
in our neighborhood. The artists
are not an isolated group here. We have no art colony. Some of us
work at painting, sculpture, ceramics, woodcutting, designing or
writing all the time, while others
farm or work in factories and carry on creative work in spare time.
This beautiful part of the Delaware
Valley seems to stimulate wide-
spread creative work."

Bucks County from Vermont. There are two 1907 cars in the collection. One is an Orient buckboard made in Waltham, Mass., the first car of the rear engine drive type. It is friction drive, having no clutch nor gears and has but a single cylinder. The other 1907 model is a Jewel with two passengers accommodated on the lone seat. This also is a single-cylinder car, with two cycle motor, and resembles a "falling top" in appearance, the top in reality being of the folding type.

Two cars of 1909 vintage are the Waverly electric, and the Sears-Roebuck buggy, the latter having a double seat, pick-up body, and being of the two-cylinder, air-cooled type. A Maxwell manufactured in the following year, 1910, is also part of the collection. This is a two-cylinder roadster.

Two cars made 38 years ago, or in 1911, are the Twombly and the Renault. Mr. Sutton's Twombly has a tandem seat for two passengers. "This was really the first car you stepped down into" to enter," he commented today. "Doors are on one side only, and the drop from the running board to the floor of the car is about six inches. The steering wheel is adjustable to permit the driver to get in and out with ease." At a recent automobile show, Sutton had the Twombly on display, and next to it was a 1915 model of a much larger car, the salesman announcing in a loud voice for all to hear that the car he was selling was the first car which one "stepped down into." Sutton had much pleasure in making a sign to place on the 1911 Twombly announcing that that was the original "step down into" car. The Twombly was made in Sharon, Pa., and sold for $325 when new. The Renault (1911) owned by Sutton, is a seven-passenger limousine, and was made in France.

The latest addition to the collection is a 1924 Franklin with air-cooled engine. This boasts of a wooden chassis. "It was jacked up for 15 years, and when I went to Syracuse, N. Y., for it last week all that was necessary was to put a new battery in it, fill it with gasoline, put new tires on it, and it ran fine. In fact I covered 425 miles on route home with it," said the owner.

The Bucks County admirer of antique automobiles does all necessary mechanical work on the cars he buys; but calls on an upholsterer to repair or replace upholstery or car tops of the fabric type.

It is the expectation of Sutton to have 60 to 75 cars by the time the planned-museum is completed. Of the 23 different makes of antique cars in his possession, five are still manufactured - the Cadillac, Ford, Maxwell, Buick and Renault. "There have been 2200 different American makes of cars since automobiles were first put on the market," the collector commented. He adds that it is no trouble to secure tires for the cars of ancient make, two firms dealing in them. "Those that are not manufactured for general use are made from the old moulds which the firms retain," according to Sutton.

The 23 cars at the Sutton place burn gasoline or oil in the head- and tail-lights. For participation in shows and parades, Sutton has the type of clothing that is coupled with motoring in by-gone days - dusters; derbies and straw hats; and for winter a raccoon coat.

Every year Sutton enters some of his machines in the shows at Devon, Pa., and Atlantic City, N. J., sponsored by the Antique Automobile Club of America; also the Thanksgiving day parade in Philadelphia. In fact he enters eight or nine shows or parades annually. He has in his possession 25 ribbons and four trophies. For the 1905 Ford he received a trophy from the Ford Company, the 1905 model being the oldest Ford displayed at the Philadelphia show.

FISH SAUSAGES

LANSING, Mich. — (INS) — Dr. Peter I. Tack of Michigan State College is trying to develop recipes utilizing carp, sucker and herring for "fish sausages." First attempts were unsuccessful because they had a rubbery consistency.

ST. ANN'S BID FOR 1ST PLACE IN LEAGUE FAILS

TRENTON, N. J., July 9 — St. Ann's bid for first place in the Trenton Industrial League failed last evening as the Bristol team bowed to the Micharski nine, 7-4, on Wetzel field. As the result of the defeat, St. Ann's dropped into second place.

The "Saints" had a 4-1 lead until the last half of the third when Micharski scored twice to shave the lead to 4-3. In the following inning, the Jerseyites drove Tony Cauti from the hill and Paul Cervellero went in to finish. Cervellero blanked the Micharski team in the last four frames and during this stretch gave up but two hits.

It was Manager Fred Micharski who pitched his team to the triumph. He was hit hard in the early frames but after the second managed to keep St. Ann's away from the plate.

The "Saints" hopped on Micharski for a pair of runs in the first. Tony Palumbo started the proceedings with a triple off the right field screen. Klein singled and Palumbo scored. Elmer laid down a bunt and on Kuzma's wild throw, Klein counted.

The Bristolites scored two more in the second when Sallustio reached base on an error by Werner, and Fred Barbetta beat out an infield roller. Both runners scored when Tony Cauti hit safely to center.

Joe Durizin's double and Kuzma's hit gave Micharski a run in the third and it scored twice in the third on a single by Durizin, a walk to Kuzma, and Bob Schnorbus' double to center.

Four runs in the 4th gave Micharski the verdict. Millard was walked. Bates popped up and Micharski singled to center. Durizin smashed out his second double and Millard counted. Cervellero relieved Cauti. Kuzma flied out, Micharski scoring after the catch. Holden was passed. When Elmer threw to second to get Holden stealing, Durizin scored. Holden crossed the plate on Schneider's error.

In the fifth, St. Ann's filled the bags on walks to Elmer, Bert Barbetta, but Sallustio and Schneider failed to deliver. After two runners got on in the 7th, Bert Barbetta hit into a double-play to kill the rally.

In the ninth inning, Toronto batted for Cervellero and dropped a hit into left. Palumbo caught hold of a Micharski pitch and sent it soaring towards center field. It looked like a certain triple or home run but Dick Holden came up with a brilliant catch and had no trouble in doubling-up Toronto at first.

Durizin with two doubles and a single led the winners at the plate while "Chuck" Klein, Fred Barbetta and Cauti had two hits each for St. Ann's.
